HARBUR & COCKRELL.

HIS NEPHEW DROWNED.

CARL ROLLE MEETS DEATH
IN CENTER CREEK.

Young Man Was a Nephew of D. H. Wampler, the Well Known Farmer Living South-east of City.

Mr. D. H. Wampler, the well known farmer living southeast of the city, received a telegram Tuesday, announcing the death of his nephew, Carl Rolle, who was drowned in Center creek, south west of Carthage.

Further developments showed that the young man was drowned in a deep hole near the Electric mill. He with a number of playmates were playing along the river. Not being able to swim, he was amusing himself by swinging out over the water on a rope tied to the limb of a nearby tree. While suspended over the creek in this manner the rope broke letting him down into the water. The other boys being smaller than Carl, were unable to do anything to save the young man. After he had disappeared the third time the boys ran to the mill for help. It was forty minutes before the body was recovered, and although the usual restoratives were applied, it was of no avail.

The young man's father was down to El Reno when the accident happened and could not be reached by a telegram, up to last reports.

Died Happy.

A pet pig belonging to Mrs. U. S. Hatfield, northwest of the city, came to an untimely end one night last week through its fondness for milk. The pig had such a hankering for milk that it took advantage of every chance to fill up on that beverage, even going so far as to suck the cows when they would lie down. The other night Mrs. Hatfield put a crock containing about two gallons of milk in a cool place to keep it from spoiling. When she went to get it the next morning she was surprised to find the lifeless body of her pet pig in the milk. The animal had fallen in the crock and was drowned. It is too bad that the little fellow did not have presence of mind enough to drink up the milk and its life might have been saved.

Miss Jennie Peterson arrived home Friday from a seven week's visit with her sister, Fannie at St. Louis, and her friend Miss Leota Auld of Lowry City. Miss Auld accompanied her and will visit friends in Jasper for several days.

Miss Jennie Schooner is visiting relatives in this vicinity. She is now instructor and head nurse in the Mercy hospital at Des Moines, Iowa, and is now enjoying a two week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Schooler will leave in a short time for Colorado, where they go for the benefit of Mrs. Schooler's health. If she is benefited they will probably locate in that state.

Mr. Arab Joice, living five miles southwest of Jasper, is suffering from blood poison from a bruise on his hand.

CORN HAS HELD OUT WELL.

While There is not Much Hopes for Corn it will Make Some Fodder.

"It is astonishing," says Phillip Hackford, the well known farmer living north of Dublin, "how well the corn has held out during this terrible hot and dry weather. I've been through a number of drouths, but have never seen the corn hold its own as well as it seems to be at this time. Just think of it. We have had practically no rain for two months and the heat has been intense. Yet, the corn has kept its color pretty well and has managed to grow right along. It's true, it hasn't made much headway, but it has grown some. How it manages to do it I do not know. Of course we don't expect to get very much corn, but we have the promise of a good supply of fodder, which will be far better than nothing."

DEATH OF MRS. VINCENT.

Passed Away Last Sunday Morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Elizabeth Vincent died last Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of her son, G. W. Vincent, four miles north of this city. Her age was 70 years and 2 months. She leaves two sons, Messrs. G. W. and H. A. Vincent, the latter being a stepson.

The funeral services were held Monday morning at 11 o'clock conducted by D. W. Teeter of this city. The interment took place at the Mitchell grave yard.

Turrentine Halt.

Mr. C. A. Mitchell was in the city Tuesday in the interest of the Purity Industrial home, which is being built in connection with the Marionville College institute, as a memorial to Prof. John Turrentine. He reports the work moving along nicely.

He said that they took Ed Elliott, the young man with a wooden leg, who is well known in Jasper, into the home and made every effort to make a man of him, but it proved to be a hopeless task and he has since left the school.

A House Party.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Whitaker have been entertaining the following Carthage people this week: Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. Clarence Lindsey and son Forrest, Mr. J. Linsey, T. J. Wickham and family, and Miss Sylvia Wickham.

Roe Cline has purchased from H. Hunt the property on the corner of Lexington and Second Streets, occupied by R. R. Hill. Mr. Cline is building an addition to the house and will occupy it in a short time.

Mrs. J. P. Leles lost a pair of gold spectacles last Sunday between her home and the M. E. Church, South. Finder will be suitably rewarded by returning same to the owner.

Mrs. H. P. Pitts was reported on the sick list Thursday morning, and we learn as we go to press, she is very ill with fever. —Neck City News.

S. A. Holson left Tuesday evening for Utah, where he expects to spend several months.

A RECEIPT FOR RAIN.

PEOPLE MUST TURN FROM WICKED WAYS.

And Humble Themselves Before the Lord and then They may Expect Their Prayers Answered.

In accordance with Gov. Dockery's proclamation appointing last Sunday as a day for fasting and prayer that the drouth might cease, a number of the christian people of the city met at the M. E. Church, South, last Sunday morning for that purpose. A number of earnest prayers were offered. Rev. Bruner preached an excellent sermon, after which Mr. Jacob Frick made a few remarks. Rev. Keltner, of Webb City being in the audience was also called upon and responded with "a receipt for rain through prayer." It was taken from the Bible and was as follows: "If my people shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will heal their land."

He said if people wanted their prayers answered, they must do more than simply ask the Lord. They must follow the precept set forth in the above text—humble themselves and seek the face of the Lord with a contrite heart, and above all turn from their wicked ways. We have no reason to believe that God will hear our prayers if we continue in our wickedness.

Then again our desires should be subject to the Lord's will. Possibly it is the Lord's will that the drouth continue a while longer. If so we as his believing children should be submissive to his will.

Caught from the Train.

Spar's from the 10:12 north bound passenger train yesterday set fire to Tom Calhoun's wheat field and swept over the field like a hurricane. The fire went right through the hedge into Carl Lowenstein's meadow, burning Mr. Lowenstein's pig pens and wind mill and only by the utmost efforts was a large quantity of hay saved.

The Sunday School Convention.

The Sunday Schools of Jasper expect to attend the convention and picnic at Enderbaugh's Grove, in force next Saturday. A couple of the schools have engaged hay wagons to take them over.

W. A. Berry was at Preston yesterday morning to assist at the first meeting of the Epworth League organized there a week before. There was a large turn out and a good meeting. Mr. Berry made them a talk. The League starts out with excellent prospects. —Press.

Miss Sally Earl lost a gold watch last Monday somewhere between Jasper and the home of Mr. Fox, east of the city. Finder will be suitably rewarded by returning same to the owner.

AMONG THE MASONS.

A Special Session and a Banquet Monday Night.

Jasper Lodge No. 308 A. F. & A. M. held a special session last Monday night at which Dr. J. K. Schooler and Elmer Lauderbaugh were given the Master Mason degree. The work was performed by representatives of the Carthage and Lamar lodges, the Lamar visitors conferring the degree upon Dr. Schooler, and the Carthage visitors taking Mr. Lauderbaugh through. The work was performed in an excellent manner and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

After the work at the hall was finished the visitors were invited to the Schoolcraft building where a banquet had been prepared by the ladies of the Eastern Star. It was a sumptuous feast with a bill of fare consisting of fried chicken, bread and butter, pickles, cold slaw, salads, ice tea, lemonade, ice cream and cake.

Toasts were given by Messrs. Seymour Brown and Tom Thompson, of Lamar, A. L. McCawley, of Carthage, and D. W. Schoolcraft, of this city, on topics appropriate for the occasion. A spirit of fraternal good feeling prevailed throughout the evening and the visiting Masons expressed themselves as highly pleased by the cordial manner in which they had been treated.

The visitors from Lamar were J. L. Cox, S. F. Brown, J. P. Weddell, Tom Thompson, Wm. Thompson, G. Brown, John Rex, James Davis, Arthur Mann and S. P. Findley. Those from Carthage were Henry Strickland, Dr. W. C. Post, Mr. Wilson, M. E. Vierne and A. L. McCawley.

Party in the Country.

The Misses Houck, very pleasantly entertained a number of their young friends at their home east of the city last Friday. Those present were Misses Lillie Rhodes, Crete Solt, Mable and Mamie Earp, Grace Barker, Colla Dodd, Emma Hendrix, Sallie and Ethel Enel, Bertha Roberts and Mrs. Maude Hershey. Messrs. Fred Cather, Ross Dodd, Willis Schoolcraft, Ralph Fairfield and Fred Fox and Mr. Cockrell.

Thinks Rain Would be an Injury.

A Jasper farmer was in town this morning and reports no rain there since the 19th of June. He says the stock are doing very well, at present, eating the dried grass of the pastures which is cured on the ground, but they will begin to suffer as soon as it rains as it will wash the sustaining substances from the grass. —Press.

A hay stack on the Pollard farm near Preston was struck by lightning Monday and burned. A timely shower of rain was all that saved forty more tons of hay in the same field.

The Neck City News announced in their last week's issue that that paper would be moved to Oronogo where it would continue its publication as the Mineral Cities News.

Thos. Calhoun is confined to his home southwest of the city with an attack of malarial fever.

TALES OF NIGHT PATROL.

THEY ARE MANY AND OF AN EXCITING NATURE.

Chas. Butts Shoots at a Dog and Jonathan Houck's Thrilling Experience With Robbers.

As everybody is probably aware by this time Jasper has a night patrol. Each morning new and strange tales are spun by the patrolmen who happened to be on duty during the night. If the night hangs heavily on his hands the patrolman goes forth with loaded revolver in search of adventure. In the small hours of the morning Monday a pistol shot rang out on the clear night air, and then all was still as death.

Chas. Butts was on duty on that night and of course he had an experience to relate. With gun in hand he was patrolling his beat, when out of the darkness appeared an object which made for him. On it came with increasing speed. Realizing that the object meant business, Charley stepped aside to get out of the way. As he stepped back his foot struck a rock causing him to stumble and fall. On came the enemy and the patrolman realized that the time for action had come and pulled the trigger. That was all that saved him. He does not know whether the shot took effect or not, but there is one thing he does know and that is that whatever it was disappeared quicker than it came.

But Mr. Butts's experience was decidedly tame by the side of what Jonathan Houck passed through on Monday night. Jonathan has been acting as a substitute patrolman on several occasions. Many citizens who have been on the streets at a late hour have been halted and compelled to give an account of themselves by this worthy gentleman. On Monday night he appeared in his usual role thoroughly fortified with his arsenal of one-shot gun, one rifle and a horse pistol.

In an unguarded moment he discovered that he had been relieved of his entire war equipments. About that time Jonathan spotted a group of suspicious looking characters on the street. On getting within hearing distance he overheard them talking about blowing up the bank. Jonathan's blood began to boil, but being without his weapons, he decided that it would be foolhardy for him to attack the gang single handed. So he went to get some help. He found Lucie Embree and he being armed with a revolver the two proceeded to capture the robbers.

A pitched battle was the result, and then is when the inhabitants were awakened from their slumbers and thought that some kind of a tragedy was being enacted. Above the noise of battle Jonathan's voice could be heard giving commands. During the progress of the fight, Jonathan became separated from his partner and the mob closed in on him. A bucket of water was poured upon him, and he was thrown down in the dust, and a rope placed around his neck preparatory to stringing him up. Things looked pretty serious for the old gentleman until his partner appeared on the scene and saved him from an untimely end.

The mob was dispersed and Jonathan was invited in to the Schoolcraft building and treated to a good supper, in appreciation of his hard night's work in saving the town from the clutches of robbers.

Jonathan has been the victim of all manner of jokes during the past few months, but the climax was reached in this last escapade, and the authorities have decided to call a halt. To guard against a fatal sequel to the numerous tricks perpetrated upon this old gentleman, has been relieved of his weapons. The marshal has also been instructed to arrest any party who is found playing any more pranks on the old man.

AND STILL THEY GO.

Another Jasper Crowd Went to El Reno Tuesday Morning.

Jasper will be well represented at the drawing for Indian lands in the Kiowa country. Besides those who went down last week a crowd of Jasper folks for Tuesday for El Reno to register for a chance in the drawing. Among those in the party were Jake McClain, John Cather, J. W. Boucher, Fred Gooding, E. L. Lauderbaugh, Frank Hadley, Mr. Lloyd, Mark and Ed Quillen. A number of old soldiers of the city sent their papers down with the delegation to register for a chance.

The registration is beyond all expectation. The first estimates placed the total at 50,000, but it has already reached $150,000. Tomorrow is the last day for registration.

The Screen Came Back.

The screen door, belonging to Dan Roberts, which mysteriously disappeared some time ago came back as mysteriously as it went away. As Mr. Roberts was going to work one morning last week he noticed a screen door standing against one of the maple trees in the M. E. Church South, church yard, and on investigation found it to be the one that he had missed.

Dental Work at Half Price.

Extraction a specialty. Dr. E. W. Key, of Nevada, Mo., will be in Jasper at Dr. Sullivan's office Thursday, August 1. I will do work under a positive guarantee at the following prices: Set of Teeth, $5.00; Crown and Bridge Work, per tooth, $5.00; Gold Fillings, $1.00; Silver Fillings, 50 cents; Extraction, 25 cents.
